WELCOME

MAY
2018

May not only marks the start of our competition season, but this year we are delighted to also introduce CPSA members to Fellows Media, who are our new magazine publishers. As you are reading this month's Pull! you will notice a different look and feel to the magazine and we look forward to working with Fellows Media for many years to come.

Last month we sent a team of eleven English shotgun athletes to the Commonwealth Games in Australia. We would like to wish many congratulations to Amber Hill (inset left) on her silver medal in the Women's Skeet and to Aaron Heading on his silver in the Men's Trap.

It has been amazing to see the demand for the Major Championships this year. The English and British Open English Sporting both sold out at the end of March and just a few spaces remain for the Tuesday / Wednesday squad rotation of the CPSA World English Sporting.

At the time of reading this, the English Open English Sporting at Atkin Grant & Lang will be just around the corner. Charlie Stewart-Wood and his team have steadily grown Atkin Grant & Lang to the point of holding their first Major Championship and I'm sure he will raise the bar for this event.

I hope you enjoy reading our 'new' magazine and hopefully I will see many of our members out at events and competitions this summer!

Clay shoots hosted by the NGO

The NGO runs several clay shoots across the country. Some are for their members only – The Golden Pheasant (10 May at Owls Lodge Shooting Ground near Winchester) and The Golden Grouse (4 June at Thimbleby Shooting Ground near Northallerton). But others are open to anyone. On Saturday 5 May the Cumbria and Lancashire Four Man Team Clay Shoot takes place at Crabtree Clay Shoot in Lancashire. With 40 Sporting targets and two 120-bird flushes, it's £140 to enter a four man team. Juniors and gamekeeping students are £25 per gun.

The Essex Regional Charity Clay Shoot takes place at Little Barton Hall in Essex on 13 May. At £20 per gun, with cash and trophy prizes the entry includes 60 targets.

They have also teamed up with Six Mile Bottom Clay Shoot, to run a fun simulated style flush shoot for teams of four guns in Suffolk. The East Anglia 500 Bird Team Flush Clay Shoot takes place on 6 June with prizes on offer for each stand, as well as overall and runners-up places. The cost is £300 per team of four.

For more details on these and other NGO clay shoots around the country and to book see www.nationalgamekeepers.org.uk/events.

PREMIER LEAGUE UPDATE

The third leg of the Premier League series took place at Highwaymans Shooting Ground in Suffolk on Sunday 25 March. There was an excellent turnout with 284 shooters taking part.

Congratulations to John Lee for his superb High Gun score of 96 ex 100, pipping Richard Bunning's 94 to take the title on the day. From a handicap perspective we also had some great shooting from Roger Deacon from the Owls Lodge Team in A Class and Stephen Harrup from the Cambridge Team in B Class who both scored 95 with their respective handicaps applied. Team Southdown took the team honours this time round with a top ten score of 886 ex 1000, just nudging Team Cambridge into second place with a very close 884. Well done to everyone who took part.

The next fixture in the series is at Honesberie Shooting School on the 22 April – too late to feature in this issue so it will be reported online and in the June issue of Pull!

HULL CARTRIDGES – PRO SIXTEEN

Hull Cartridge has launched the Pro Sixteen. They say it's a great choice for simulated game flushes or practice training. Suitable for both heritage side-by-sides and modern over and unders, with a speed of 1410 f.p.s. this smooth shooting load featuring around 316 pellets of No 7-1/2 competition grade shot, delivers good uniform dense patterns. And the fibre wad is biodegradable too.

It's available from leading stockists and retails from £285/1,000.

IT'S SHOW TIME

The Northern Shooting Show takes place on 12-13 May at the Yorkshire Event Centre. The CPSA are delighted to be attending – visit us on our stand or have a taster session under the guidance of our qualified instructors and coaches on the clayline.

We will have four shooting stands on the clayline, with Simon Arbuckle at the helm. Other CPSA instructors who will be on hand include Ben Green, Derek Wetter, Jason Leith, Peter Richardson, Matthew Watson, Thomas Long and Christopher McKenzie. You can reserve your £12 adult Early Bird ticket including parking now at www.northernshootingshow.co.uk/tickets.

YOUR PHOTO

All your photographs may be viewed instantly and 7ins x 5ins printed immediately in either colour, black and white or sepia. These will be available to buy for the special price of £10. Digital versions can also be purchased. Take away a wonderful memento to remember the occasion. The photography team can usually be found in the club house or registration zones.

As the CPSA celebrates its 90th birthday, we are looking back across the decades at the development of the sport of clay shooting and the growth of the association, its governing body in England. This month we look at the fourth decade in the CPSA's history, the period between 1959 and 1968.

The 'Swinging Sixties' were a period of massive change – bringing seemingly endless innovations from sliced bread and supermarkets to package holidays, colour TV and space travel. Clay shooting – and Sporting in particular – was proving slow to take off, however.

At this time the CPSA was still an offshoot of Eley, the cartridge manufacturer. The association was based in an office at the company's Edmonton shot tower and run by its first director, Peter Page, who was on the Eley payroll.

Mike Yardley's book Clay Pigeon Shooting: A History quotes FM McFarland writing in 1964, "Clay shooting is progressing throughout the United Kingdom and Ireland. It is not possible to say that it is booming. Unfortunately we have still not found the recipe to make it boom."

The problem, it seems, was that Brits still viewed clay pigeons as practice for 'the real thing' – driven game shooting. McFarland felt it was a mistake trying to promote clay shooting to game shooters, which he likened to 'trying to sell bicycles to Rolls Royce owners.' Instead, he felt the sport should reach out to the wider public, 'trying to interest the artisan and town dweller who may possibly never shoot at game in their whole lives, but who could make extremely useful clay pigeon shooters.'

His vision would prove correct in years to come, as people from all walks of life began to appreciate clay shooting as a sport in its own right. In the meantime, however, the sport was already an established and growing part of the Olympic Games.

The 1968 Games in Mexico City were memorable in several ways. Skeet joined Trap as an Olympic discipline, and women were allowed to compete alongside men in the shooting events for the first time. Notably for Britain, Lancashire vet Bob Braithwaite won gold in the Trap.

That year saw a major change in firearms licensing with the introduction of the Firearms Act of 1968, which brought shotguns into the licensing system for the first time. At the time it was feared that licensing would severely restrict the popularity of the shotgun sports – but in fact clay shooting, and Sporting in particular, was poised for a long-awaited boom in popularity.

100 STRAIGHT CLUB SHOOT

The 100 Straight Skeet Club Championship took place on Sunday 25 March at Northampton Shooting Ground. Seventy-nine competitors turned out on what proved to be one of the best days, weather-wise, that we have had so far this year.

Martine and the team at Northampton SG did their normal superlative best and the shoot progressed faultlessly. It was well subscribed to the point where the shoot started a little early with pre squad one in order to allow for shoot offs. At the end of the day there were only two 100 straights and no other class or category shoot offs. Following the only shoot off, and after replenishing their ammo, Peter Collins was eventually victorious over Northampton's Neil Faulkner to become the 2018 100 Straight Club Champion. Wendy Allen was Ladies Champion, Peter Collins was Veterans Champion, Luke Daniels was Junior Champion and Henry Lumley was Colts Champion.

New! The Ian Coley column

Introducing our new columnist, GB Olympic Team Coach and MBE, Ian Coley. This month he shares some discoveries from Nuremberg.

IWA Outdoor Classics & ICTST World DTL Championships

IWA Outdoor Classics didn't fail to deliver on some very exciting new products that should be arriving in the UK as we speak. Europe's largest trade show once again showcased some beautiful guns including (in no particular order) some stunning custom engraved Krieghoff K80 Parcours; the gamescene engraved Caesar Guerini Invictus VII sideplate and a facelift version of the Perazzi MXS.

A number of innovations were also on show – the lightweight Benelli 828 Sporter features not only a carbon fibre rib, but also a unique action based on a semi-auto. A new DPS2 trigger system has been fitted to the Caesar Guerini Invictus III – to complement the trademark gold block and cams of the scroll engraved action – and Browning released its first fixed choke gun for many years in the Crown. With white gold inlaid gamescene engraving, the Crown features true nominal bore (.729) barrels perfect for fibre wads.

More recently I am delighted to have been part of the Silver medal-winning Super Veterans team at the ICTSF World DTL Championships in Australia. The event saw outstanding success for Australia, with a clean sweep of wins in the Overall, Team and Individual categories. See p21 for details.

LETTER OF THE MONTH

I just wanted to write to complement you and CPSA for the excellent day I spent at Southdown, undertaking the Shotgun Skills Course. The course was informative and helpful. While I have done some shooting, this training and skills course really focussed my mind and covered much more than I expected and was incredible value.

I must ask that you please acknowledge Iain Stirling who was the course leader.

Iain Stirling

His obvious passion for helping those new to the sport like me was infectious. Throughout the whole day his approach was one that sought to bring out the best in each of us attending and ensuring that we were not left behind in any of the areas we discussed. The fact that he spoke from personal experience, and shared a number of anecdotes with us, reinforced our learning on the day.

Iain spent time with us as a group and when needed, tailored his time and teaching to us as individuals. He inspired confidence, was supportive and encouraging throughout and certainly left me feeling that I had learned a significant amount both theoretical as well as practically.

The teaching methods used worked incredibly well in our small group of three. Whilst I know from personal experience how difficult it can sometimes be, to balance numbers of people on a course with the costs and achieving the teaching outcomes, Iain really filled every minute of the day to ensure that each of us received his personal input and despite my limited skills on the field whilst shooting, I left with a real sense of achievement and enthused to improve.

The service Iain and the CPSA team have provided has been excellent and I am now looking to attend the next available referees course to continue to develop my skills, knowledge and experience and will certainly be looking to CPSA again to continue to improve my shooting.

My day with Iain was a pleasure and his anecdotes, advice and guidance were very much welcomed. The venue was great and provided everything needed.

I have to therefore, commend Iain and CPSA for a really great day – it was of a quality that others should aspire to provide.

Commonwealth Games

Sarah Daly reports on the Gold Coast XXI Games, held from 4-15 April in Australia.

The XXI Commonwealth Games (CG) were hosted at the Belmont Shooting Centre, on the Gold Coast.

The England Team went to the Games with high hopes for some good performances. Amber Hill opened England's account by winning silver in the Skeet Women. Teammate Emily Hibbs was close on Amber's heels throughout qualification with both finishing on 69ex75. Following a shoot-off for the final ranking places, Amber beat Emily by one target to take ranking places of fourth and fifth respectively, putting the experienced Andri Eleftheriou (CYP) into sixth place.

The final was a tense affair with Emily finishing in a very creditable fifth place and Amber continued to lock horns with Andri in the battle for gold, eventually losing out by three targets, finishing on 49ex60. Speaking after winning silver Amber said, "It was an amazing final and I'm super happy to be coming away with a silver medal. It was so nice to have a teammate in the final with me and she (Emily) shot amazing. It's her first Commonwealth Games and to come away in fifth place is fantastic. She's definitely one to watch."

The Skeet Men saw a real battle between teammates Freddie Killander and Jack Fairclough. Jack was in equal first place at the end of day one, on a score of 49ex50, Freddie was well down the field in 13th place on 44. The natural reaction would be that Freddie was so far off the pace he would have no hope of making the finals. How wrong can you be? he came out on the second day and shot 75 straight, a brilliant reaction to a disappointing first day.

Finishing on 119ex125 was enough to go into a shoot-off for a final's ranking place of fifth against Gareth McAuley (NIR) and Smit Singh (IND). Jack qualified in third place after his own shoot-off from 122, losing out to Ben Llewellyn (WAL) and Georgios Achilleos (CYP) progressing as the top ranked shooter.

ENGLAND'S RESULTS

Skeet Women	Amber Hill	Silver
	Emily Hibbs	Finalist (fifth)
Skeet Men	Freddie Killander	Finalist (fourth)
	Jack Fairclough	Finalist (fifth)
Double Trap Women	Rachel Parish	Sixth
Double Trap Men	Matt French	Eighth
	Steve Scott	Thirteenth
Trap Women	Abbey Ling	Finalist (fourth)
	Ellie Seaward	Ninth
Trap Men	Aaron Heading	Silver
	Ed Ling	Finalist (fourth)

Another exciting final to follow – Jack finished in fifth, but Freddie put in a sterling performance to come fourth, so close to a medal, but ruled out as Gareth, although on a level score, took the lead on rank. Ben continued to shoot well to take silver, whilst Georgios sealed his top qualifying rank to take gold.

In the Double Trap, Rachel Parish was unable to match her bronze from Glasgow four years ago, finishing in sixth place on 83, four points behind Linda Pearson (SCO) who took the bronze medal.

Disappointment followed in the men's event. Matt French narrowly missed out on qualifying for the six man final, finishing in eighth place, while Steve Scott finished in 13th.

In Women's Trap, Abbey Ling missed out on a bronze medal by the finest of margins. The competition started well for Abbey who finished qualification joint first with Sarah Wixey (WAL) and Kirsty Barr (NI) on 69ex75. After a three-way shoot off, Abbey qualified in second place, with Sarah going through as the top ranked shooter, which proved pivotal.

Six women progressed to the final, where scores were reset back to zero. After 35 targets and with just four shooters remaining, Abbey and Sarah were tied on 24, but Abbey was eliminated due to qualifying as the second ranked shooter behind Sarah.

It can only be described as a bitter pill to swallow for Abbey, but a fantastic effort and performance nonetheless. After a further round of shooting, Sarah finished on 28ex40 to take the bronze medal.

Kirsty Barr continued in an enthralling battle with Laetisha Scanlan (AUS) which went to the wire. Kirsty missed her last target to finish on 37ex50, one target behind the Australian, who celebrated her birthday with a gold medal and new Games Record.

Ellie Seward put in a credible performance competing at her first Commonwealth Games as she finished in ninth place on 63, only three targets behind Laetisha's qualification score.

In the Men's Trap, Aaron Heading picked up England's second silver shooting alongside teammate Ed Ling. Aaron finished day two of qualification in a tie for second place on 119ex125. Ed matched Aaron's score and the English duo were joined by Mitchell Iles-Crevatin (AUS), who also finished on 119.

Following a shoot off, Aaron progressed to the six-man final as the second ranked shooter, with Ed ranked third. Michael Wixey (WAL) progressed in first place after shooting 120 in qualification. In the final Ed was eliminated in fourth place, shooting 28ex35 – adding to England's list of near misses for the Games.

Aaron continued to shoot confidently and finished the final on 43ex50 to take silver, pushing Michael the whole way, who scored 46 to take gold and set a new Games Record in the process.

DTL WEEKEND PREVIEW

The DTL Weekend is the standout domestic competition for DTL shooters during the clay season. In 2018 it returns to Bywell Shooting Ground for the seventh consecutive year, on 15-17 June.

The Henry family, who run the Premier Plus ground located in the heart of Northumberland are clearly relishing the opportunity to host the DTL community at their renowned venue once again. "It's always special for us to host the DTL Weekend and we look forward to welcoming all the DTL shooters to Bywell," explains Anne Henry.

"The popularity of the CPSA Major Championships is testament to the sport and we wish all the DTL shooters coming to Bywell this year the best of luck." Elis Jones grabbed the headlines last year recording his first ever 100/300 to win the prestigious Dougall Memorial Trophy. Competing as a junior last year, Elis is one of the youngest shooters ever to lift the historic trophy which dates back to 1896, making it one of the oldest pieces of silverware in any sport. Elis, now shooting in the senior category, returns on Saturday afternoon to try and defend his title.

ENTHRALLING SHOOT-OFF

Austin Coxhead was also a name on everyone's lips last year. After narrowly losing out to Phil Morgan in a shoot-off for the Sponsored DTL title on the Friday, he returned to finish third behind Elis and John Barnett in the Dougall on the Saturday, before ending the weekend on a high by seeing off Mark Delf and Ian Douglas in an enthralling shoot-off to take the English Open crown.

Ruag under the Perazzi brand and Eley Hawk are the headline sponsors for this year's DTL Weekend while Laporte have also made an additional contribution to the prize fund.

Perazzi have provided a financial contribution and all the class winners across all three events will receive a Perazzi watch. Eley Hawk have financially contributed and supplied 12,000 cartridges which will be shared among all the class and category winners in all three of the events. The Sponsored day on the Friday will also be named The Eley Hawk Sponsored DTL as part of their association with the event.

Eley Hawk's Marketing Manager David Thompson believes it is important for them to give back to the sport, "The CPSA DTL Weekend at Bywell is a great competition to be involved with and it's fantastic to see so many shooters wanting to compete and win every year. Providing cartridges for prizes and helping with the costs of the event is part of us wanting to give back into the sport which produces so many positive outcomes for everyone who shoots this discipline.

"Bywell Shooting Ground run a great event and the size and scope of what they manage to produce each year is brilliant. The Eley Hawk DTL Gold cartridge has become popular with many successful DTL shooters and we look forward to seeing everyone at the event."

There are still spaces available for the three competitions. CPSA members can book at championships.cpsa.co.uk or by calling HQ on 01483 485400

Phil Unwin of Ruag Ammotec on behalf of Perazzi comments, "Ruag Ammotec UK with Perazzi have long considered

this to be the premier and most enjoyable DTL event in the calendar and are delighted to be involved again with co-sponsoring the DTL Weekend at Bywell.

"We look forward to being at Bywell, arguably one the best DTL grounds in the country, who are guaranteed to put on a tremendous shoot with the usual excellent hospitality."

WORLD ENGLISH SPORTING CHAMPIONSHIPS PREVIEW

The last week in June will see top shooters from across the globe head to E.J. Churchill Shooting Ground for the CPSA World English Sporting Championships.

The seven-day festival of shooting returns to E.J. Churchill's for the third consecutive time in England and the ground is already promising to up the ante from the 2016 event.

Running from 25 June to 1 July, the week is made up of the CPSA World English Sporting, World Sportrap, Prelim English Sporting, FITASC Sporting and a range of other exciting events.

Rob Fenwick, Managing Director at E.J. Churchill, highlights the preparation that is already going into the Worlds, "It's all go here at E.J. Churchill with planning for the CPSA World Championships.

As some of you will have seen we have recently done a lot of landscaping for the village area to make it bigger and better than ever."

Set amidst 40

acres of woodland

on the West Wycombe Estate in Buckinghamshire, there is plenty of scope for the ground to use a variety of landscapes for the courses, with Rob adding, "I think the Prelim event will be a real success, especially as this is also going to be based on the estate and will be the perfect practice for the main events, which will be in similar surroundings.

"I am delighted to see how entries are going and I can assure everyone that it will be an amazing event and hopefully there will be a few new surprises as well. I look forward to seeing everyone soon."

For shooters competing in the Worlds this year, there is the additional kudos of 26-time World Champion George Digweed MBE setting the two courses.

NEW CHALLENGE

While George still regularly competes at the top, setting the course presents a new challenge to him at this year's event, "It's a very interesting thing for me to do, because I still feel as though I'm good enough to compete at the highest level." he said. "To take myself out of that competitive environment and now focus on my role for this event as a course designer was a difficult decision to make, but I'm looking forward to it."

Although George is accustomed to winning silverware, he's quick to acknowledge the importance of setting a course for all levels to enjoy: "It's not just about the top 100 shots in the world. Everybody entered has to feel as though they've had value for money."

There will be ten stands for all classes to enjoy, with targets for everyone to break and then I think there will be a few stands on each course which will hopefully sort the men from the boys."

Two years ago, Anthony Matarrese shot his way into the record books, becoming the first American to win a CPSA World English Sporting title. He

"Gamebore are proud to continue their sponsorship of the CPSA World English Sporting Championship, hosted by E.J. Churchill. We look forward to seeing everyone at this superb venue for what promises to be a hugely enjoyable event."

DAVID SCOTT, GAMEBORE

returns this year as part of the American team and shoots in the morning on the Saturday / Sunday rotation.

Anyone planning to come and watch some of the action at the CPSA World English Sporting Championships this year can also expect to see familiar top shots from the UK competing throughout the week. Notably, Richard Faulds MBE shoots early in the week on the Tuesday / Wednesday rotation, while other big hitters including Martin Myers and Mark Winser shoot over the Saturday / Sunday rotation.

The World Sportrap and FITASC Sporting are now sold out. Spaces are still available for the Tuesday / Wednesday rotation of the World English Sporting and there is good availability for the Prelim English Sporting across the week.

OLYMPIC SKEET

ENGLISH OPEN

Sarah Daly reports.

It was a tough weekend at Doveridge on the 24-25 March for the Olympic Skeet English Open and England Team Selection Shoots.

The wind played with the targets, proven by the lack of straights – only four shot all weekend, two by Michael Gilligan, but that was not enough to beat his long-time team mate, Jez Bird who shot the other two straights and led the field on 96ex100, one target ahead of Michael with James Rounsevell on 92 at the overnight stage.

Michael pulled level with Jez by the end of the second day to finish on 190ex200 with Jez winning the shoot off to take the English Open title. Paul Tudge matched James's score of 182, but in the absence of James (who had to drive back to Cornwall) being unavailable for the decider, Paul was awarded third by default.

Jez commented on the event, "It was hard going, with it being 200 targets, so you end up watching a lot more targets than you are shooting. I think it showed in the scores, particularly down the order, people just seemed to run out of steam.

"Mike is a good shot and can take a lot of beating, to be equal after 200 targets over two days, was a good effort. It was really good to win, mission accomplished! It was a good confidence builder to set me up for the rest of the season."

NARROW VICTORY

Jess Burgess is a relative newcomer to Olympic Skeet and pushed Lara Dale the whole way in a close battle for the Ladies title, with Victoria Humphreys in third.

There was only one target separating the three top Juniors at the end of day one, Alex Wilkinson, Dominic Cooper and Lara Dale. Dominic went on to win the Junior title, Alex second and Lara third.

It was very encouraging to see some young newcomers, who showed genuine signs of talent and grit to come back on the second day – even improving on their previous day's scores, and best of all, with a huge grin!

CPSA Director, Bob Kibblewhite commented, "I spent most of Sunday at the event and witnessed good shooting and a good atmosphere. It was refreshing to see so many young competitors – the future of our sport appears to be in good hands!"

13TH ICTSF WORLD DTL Championships

Australia 25-27 March. David Amos, Down The Line England Team Manager, reports.

Over 800 entries with teams from England, Australia, Ireland, Northern Ireland, South Africa, New Zealand and individuals from as far away as Wales and Fiji took part at the 13th ICTSF World DTL Championship at the ACTA National Ground, Wagga Wagga, Australia.

The England team shooters got off to a difficult start on the first morning, shooting in winds which were reaching up to 40mph, making it far from ideal.

Regrettably, the results were not as good as we would have hoped for, as the weather made the shoot somewhat of a lottery.

The host country entered three teams in each category, which gave them a high average of success. From the start the Australians led and were strong right to the end. England's only success came in the Super Vets category, with Ian Coley, Nigel Lovatt and John Adams taking home a well-deserved silver medal.

Owen Vining shot a lovely 100/295 on the second day to give the Junior team a chance of a bronze medal, but they narrowly missed out, losing in a shoot off to New Zealand. Jim Doherty from Ireland, no stranger to the England circuit, shot well over the two days. It was no surprise to see Australian shooters dominate the individual honours, taking a top three clean sweep across all the categories. Congratulations to Frazer Roberts who scored 970 to take the overall title.

The next ICTSF WORLD DTL World Championship will be held on home soil by the CPSA at Bywell Shooting Ground in 2020. The current President Robert Nugent stepped down and Connor Mooney from Ireland has taken the role.

Hunston Shooting Ground & Barrow Sporting Clays

We chat to Ben Thorrold about his two grounds at Risby and Hunston Village in Suffolk.

Q How did you start shooting?

A: From a very young age I was constantly in the midst of the shooting world, watching the champions compete, including my own father Philip Thorrold. So, from the age of three, being carried around the grounds in my father's cartridge bag, I knew that one day I wanted to compete, to win the competitions and dreamt of running the grounds myself.

Q When did you open your grounds and what makes them special?

A: There has been a well run shoot at the Barrow ground for the past 20 years before I took over earlier this year and opened Barrow Sporting Clays. The land sculpting that has now taken place provides an opportunity for some interesting, challenging and alternative targets. It's home to a great atmosphere and welcomes all shooters, with exciting in-house tournaments, running alongside Sunday CPSA competitions. Hunston Wood is a brand new shoot set in a 120-acre woodland. The beautiful setting and endless space has very exciting potential.

Q Which disciplines do you offer?

A: Within both of our grounds we offer FITASC, Sporttrap and English Sporting on a regular basis, with hopes that further down the line we can be home to one of the major championships.

Q What's clay shooting like in your area?

A: Within the area of Norfolk and Suffolk, the shooting opportunities began to dwindle over the past eight years with many of the smaller grounds sadly closing. However, with many of the local grounds now becoming home to larger competitions, it's putting Suffolk and Norfolk back on the map, with the shoots clearly becoming busier and more popular. The area continues to produce some of the shooting world's best competitors.

Q What are your current aims?

A: 2018 is set to be the year of expansion! Running two grounds has been a great challenge and we can hope for nothing more than to make these the most popular and successful around. Barrow Sporting Clays and Hunston Woods have settled into the business tree along with our current facilities including Thorrold's Limited Shooting Shop, Philip Thorrold's Shooting Academy and the Simulated Days we hold around different locations.

Q What are your three tips for shooting well here?

A: We always give the same advice to all of our students and would say this applies within the new grounds that are opening. Concentration, focus and positive attitude are key!

Address: Risby and Hunston Village in Suffolk Tel: 07912 497000. Both Hunston Woods and Barrow Sporting Clays opened in 2018. The Cheddite Championships take place at Hunston Wood on 27-28 May. Both grounds run their entries from 9am-2pm, with 12-15 stands, and offer ample parking, great locally-sourced food and targets to challenge every class.

YOUNG SHOTS

Kate Gatacre interviews Alfie Tibbles.

Alfie is on the Team GB Talent Pathway for Olympic Trap and competes in Skeet, Sporting, Compak and FITASC

HOW DID YOU GET INTO CLAY SHOOTING?

I had never even heard of it before I started. I fainted at a Scouts parade when I was 11 and had to visit hospital. To cheer me up, Dad took me on a 25-shot taster session at our local ground, LVSA (Hertford). Luckily for me, Dad also got hooked and we both applied for licences and started shooting regularly.

DO YOU THINK THERE'S ENOUGH BEING DONE TO ENCOURAGE YOUNG PEOPLE INTO THE SPORT?

The CPSA and BICTSF are doing their bit, but the main issue is the costs. There are fees for training and competitions – for me that will be around £2,000-£3,000 this year without cartridge costs. Young shots' competition fees could be lower – in half my competitions I pay the senior rate. Dad and I have thought about setting up a fund where shooters could donate kit and cartridges for young shots to use, and we're hoping to propose something to the CPSA later this year. Lastly, I think all disciplines should have a Colts' category. There are only Junior categories in most Trap disciplines and FITASC, so Colts are competing against 16 to 21-year-olds, which can be demoralising.

WHAT'S YOUR NEXT GOAL? To improve my average in Sporting, and hopefully to win some of my upcoming competitions such as the British and the English Open, as well as training hard in Trap.

DO YOU THINK WE CAN BEAT THE DOUBLE BRONZE AT RIO WHEN WE HEAD TO TOKYO IN 2020?

We've got an amazing team of younger elite athletes such as Amber Hill and Ben Llewellyn, and I think Team GB can achieve great results, continue to uphold our reputation and encourage more young shots to the sport.

WHY DO YOU SHOOT A LOT OF DIFFERENT DISCIPLINES? I love all the disciplines. For now, I prefer to try a little of everything. I will specialise in a discipline in a couple of years when I move from Colts to Juniors. I find it easy to switch from the gun-down way I shoot Sporting to the gun-up Trap stance, but if I want to reach a Team GB level I will need to specialise. Shooting the different disciplines at a high level improves my confidence, and being in shoot-offs and grand finals all help with calming the nerves. I think it is one of the only sports where I could be competing next to a world champion!

HIT

The High
Tower target

CPSA Level 3 Senior Coach Simon Arbuckle explains how to deal with a 'driven' target thrown from a high tower.

Last year's series on how to hit common Sporting targets was very popular, so we're back again with a second series.

This month we're looking at the 'high driven' target that you'll typically see thrown from a shooting ground's high tower, often coming straight over the shooting stand. This is a target where some people have a mental block, believing that they have a problem with it. You'll hear shooters say, "I just can't hit high tower targets."

If you tell yourself that, you never will, so the first step is to believe in yourself. The target may look high, but if other shooters can break it, so can you. Think positive!

To demonstrate this target here at Southdown Gun Club, we are using a trap mounted on a cherry picker.

The trap is angled upwards, and the ground falls away towards the shooting stand, so the range is close to 25m as it passes over the shooter's head.

1. THE FEET

As with all shooting, I start with the feet, which need to be set towards the tower in the usual 'ten past twelve' configuration. In other words, for a right-handed shooter, the left toes point towards the tower, and the right toes point towards two o'clock on an imaginary clock face.

2. VISUAL PICK-UP POINT

I will shoot this target using the CPSA 'Method', so I begin by establishing where I first see it clearly. As the clay leaves the trap it appears as a blur, but once it has travelled a short distance my eyes can lock on to it as a solid object – so this will be my Visual Pick-Up Point.

3. BREAK POINT

Next, my Break Point. There is a natural tendency to wait until this target is directly overhead, but there is no advantage in waiting that long unless you are forced to by some obstruction. If you shoot the target while it's still out in front, it needs less lead, less gun speed, and it doesn't force you to stretch so much.

If there's a shooter in the stand ahead of me I can watch his targets to decide my Break Point – using an extended arm as an imaginary gun can help. If not, I will decide on my Break Point when I call to see a target.

4. GUN HOLD POINT

My Gun Hold Point will be roughly one third of the distance between the other two points. It needs to be far enough out from the trap that once I see the target I can move and lock on smoothly. It's important that the target doesn't overtake the gun, or I will have to rush to catch it up. Equally, I don't want the gun racing ahead of the target, otherwise I will be forced to check my swing and allow the target to catch up. Experience will help you to pick the right Gun Hold Point from the start, but don't be afraid to adjust your hold point after the first target or two if you find the timing is not working.

5. PREPARE TO CALL FOR THE TARGET

Once I am ready to shoot, I mount the gun to my Break Point, then swing back down the flightline to my Gun Hold Point. I drop the stock slightly from my shoulder and, keeping the muzzles on the Gun Hold Point, turn my eyes back to the Visual Pick-Up Point. I am shooting with both eyes open, so I can see around the barrels to the Visual Pick-Up Point. If you shoot gun-up, or wear a patch due to eye dominance problems, you may need to hold the muzzle slightly to one side of the flightline so you can see the target appear.

6. SWING AND SHOOT

I call "Pull" and the target comes out, I focus on the clay, lock the gun onto it, move with it then pull ahead, shooting as the gun comes in front of the target – all in one smooth motion. It's vital that I keep the gun moving as I fire, because stopping the swing will inevitably cause a miss behind.

If you apply the principles of the CPSA 'Method' the High Tower driven target should be no more difficult than any other target on the Sporting layout, and with practice you should be able to break it consistently. As always, if you have tried applying the CPSA 'Method' and are still struggling with this or any other target, I highly recommend a visit to a CPSA qualified coach, who is trained to identify the problem and put you back on the straight and narrow.

THANKS

To Southdown Gun Club for their invaluable help with this series.

Eyes on the prize

The world of shooting glasses goes much deeper than just looking good. For those new to the sport, Jasper Fellows provides some vital info to safeguard your vision, that may also help to improve your scores.

The main benefit of shooting glasses should be to provide the wearer with a decent level of eye protection from the dust and debris that may be encountered while shooting. Protective glasses that meet EN166 will have been assessed for field of vision, transmission and diffusion of light, reactive properties and robustness, as well as resistance to ageing, corrosion and ignition.

However, increased safety is not the only benefit a good pair of glasses can provide. The right lens in the right frame can make a remarkable difference to your performance and comfort, from filtering out light on a sunny day to increasing the contrast of an orange clay against the background to such an extent that some Olympic shooters are calling certain lenses an 'unfair advantage.'

FUNCTION OVER FORM

For maximum results your shooting eyewear should be more function than form. Your retro wingtip sunglasses may make you feel like James Dean but the heavy rims will limit peripheral vision and negatively affect target acquisition and therefore your overall hit rate. Ideally you should be looking for an extremely minimal frame and if possible a single 'sheet' lens. This will allow your eyes to scan across the range with minimal obstruction.

Lens colour is also a very important consideration. Pick a colour that will best suit your usual target colour and help filter out background noise, while also matching the lighting conditions that you usually face on your preferred shooting ground.

In the UK shooting grounds tend to be tucked in amongst trees and green fields, so a blue or purple lens may be the best

Becky McKenzie says:

"I have two pairs of Prescription OptiLab glasses, both sets are in ProVision Frame and one is yellow lens for low light. My favourite is the Transitions Drivewear Lens."

Sponsored by Optilabs, she says she chose them as they offered her great customer service and great lenses that fit her well.

LENS COLOUR BREAKDOWN

YELLOW

Reduces the brightness of blue light, increasing definition in haze or light fog.

GREY

As with many sunglasses grey is great for reducing light and allows the eyes to filter out glare.

ORANGE

Reduces blue light while also increasing the contrast and definition of orange targets. Best choice for orange 'blaze' clays.

BROWN

Like an orange lens brown will increase the contrast of an orange clay against the background while also reducing additional light. Perfect for orange clays on a bright day.

BLUE/ PURPLE

Helps to reduce green light, giving a much greater contrast between either a black or orange clay against a green, tree-filled background.

CLEAR

The standard option with most lenses, best for low light situations during early morning or evening shooting.

PHOTOCROMIC

These types of lenses will adapt to the lighting conditions they are exposed to. They will clear in darker conditions and darken in bright conditions.

Glasses above: Evolution Connect shown in six different colours. With Class 1 Optical Quality lenses, it is rimless for completely unobscured vision, has adjustable nose pads and an anti-fog coating to both sides of the lenses. Lightweight for all-day wear, the thin profile temples make it ideal for wearing with ear defenders. Available at www.evolutionsunglasses.com choice to filter out the green light and give greater contrast of the target. However, if faced with haze or light fog, a yellow or orange lens might be a better option. This will help block out the blue light from the mist and allow for easier target acquisition.

Selecting the correct lens can not only help with contrast and light levels but will also reduce eye fatigue, allowing the shooter to continue shooting at a higher level for a longer period of time.

Many manufacturers also include options for prescription lenses. These tend to fall into three categories.

'Over' glasses allow the user to wear their usual prescription glasses underneath the shooting glasses. This would be the best option for casual shooters or for shooting grounds to lend to their clients. Doubling up on lenses and frames can be uncomfortable for longer term use.

Prescription lens inserts are now offered by many manufacturers. Custom made lens inserts from your optician's prescription can be slotted into compatible shooting glasses. This is a much more comfortable option than 'over' glasses as there is no double up on frame, temples or earpieces.

Direct glazed prescription lenses are made in a similar way to your usual every day prescription glasses. The manufacturer will take your prescription and glaze this directly onto polymer. This means that your shooting glasses will match your conventional specs without having to add any additional lenses into the mix. By having just the one set of lenses you will avoid any irritating reflections, giving you a more compact package.

YOUR CHOICE

There are a large number of manufacturers who produce a wide variety of shooting glasses with different options and price points. From traditional sunglasses manufacturers like Oakley and Bollé, to more shooting and competition centric companies like Beretta and Pilla. Whoever you choose to go with just remember to check for the EN166 safety standard stamp and think of where and when you will be shooting. Most importantly remember that your glasses are no use sitting in your bag. Make sure you use them whenever you shoot, as you never know what might happen. Your eyesight is worth far more than the money you will spend on eye protection. Besides, they might even make you a more successful shot!

....use them whenever you shoot, as you never know what might happen. Your eyesight is worth far more than the money you will spend on eye protection. Besides, they might even make you a more successful shot!

CARE

Make sure you look after your shooting specs. Tiny scratches on the lens surface can quickly build up and cause hazy spots in your vision. Look for lenses that offer some form of scratch resistance and keep them in their cases and out of the sun when not in use. Only use lens cloths to clean them and keep them away from abrasives and sticky fingers!

In my Kitbag

Kate Gatacre divulges Leah Southall's essential tools of the trade.

Leah Southall will be familiar with most readers, not least thanks to her recently being crowned CPSA Emerging Shooter of the Year, but also thanks to her lively social media presence. Under Phil Morgan (Welsh International), Leah trains at Mid Wales Shooting Centre on the weekends when she isn't competing, having been coached by Lee Kirby (England International) for her first year. At the age of 14, weekdays are schooldays for Leah. Her accolades are impressive: Silver in Colts at the English Open Single Barrel, Staffordshire DTL, Double Rise and Single Barrel Lady County Champion. Considering Leah picked up DTL as a discipline in 2016, it's a pretty impressive list. She hopes to add to it over the course of 2018, and will be attending England DTL selection shoots with the aim of representing England in the Home Internationals, as well as entering the European Championships and the British Open and representing her home county of Staffordshire. One of the things that stands out about Leah when you see her competing is her smart appearance. Mostly in black, with a flash of red from her shooting vest, Leah clearly takes pride in looking tidy, and says she likes to keep the colours she wears uniform.

Clothing is all very well, but what are the most essential tools of the trade for Leah? Her shotgun, of course, and cartridges. The former is a Beretta DT11 12g Trap gun, "Which was given to me with my sponsorship from GMK and Beretta, the companies sponsoring the Emerging Shooter of the Year Award. It's got 30in barrels and fixed chokes – three-quarter and full. The one I'm using is a loan, while I wait for my long-term gun. I'm really excited about that – it's a DT11 Carbon Black Edition with a Monte-Carlo Adjustable stock. Having an adjustable stock means that we can make any changes needed to suit my requirements in the future."

Paired with her Beretta, Leah uses Eley DTL Gold cartridges – and in 2018 the company sponsored her, "I'm incredibly proud and grateful to be part of the fantastic team at Eley. I use 28g of No8 and No7.5. They are fantastic – really smooth to use but they also give me great hits. As you can imagine, I've used quite a few thousand of those shooting every weekend."

Eley's sponsorship also provides Leah with her first item out of the bag – one that is now part of the uniform of most clay shooters: "A black cap with the Eley logo in gold on the front. It fits in perfectly with the rest of my outfit!"

SHOOTING GLASSES

Next on Leah's packing list are her shooting glasses – Pilla Panther X6 with progressive lenses. "At the moment I have the PN3 – a purple progressive neutraliser, and the PL3, the progressive lemon high-contrast lenses, which I switch according to the conditions and background. I've also got the 62HCW lenses, which are the high-contrast watermelon coloured ones." Leah bought her glasses from Ed Lyons, the renowned sports vision consultant, after a consultation: "I really like these particular glasses – they have a prescription insert which helps to enhance my vision and the lens colour selection is amazing – I can adapt them to any situation."

Eyes dealt with, the ears also need protection. To that end, Leah uses moulded ear plugs, "I got them from

GG Leah is attending England DTL selection shoots with the aim of representing England in the Home Internationals JJ

Custom Fit Ear Plugs and got to choose the colours – black and blue. It's an impressive company. I got the impressions taken on a Saturday and was able to use them on the Sunday morning in time for a competition!" With a plethora of ear plugs on the market, Leah prefers the 'solids'. "They completely block out any background noise, which is really helpful."

BLACK AND RED

Her Castellani Skeet Vest is from Laporte. "It's got a great colour combination of black and red." Paired with her black outfit, down to black Nike trainers, which Leah says, "Are very comfortable – I find other forms of footwear can be uncomfortable for shooting," Leah does indeed present a uniform, tidy picture.

The last few items from her bag include MacWet gloves, "Of course in black! I have a pair of Climatec ones for winter use and a pair of mesh ones for summer."

Leah makes sure she's also got some essential fuel for the day, in the form of a protein bar and a couple of bottles of water, and a change of clothes in case the weather isn't co-operating. The remaining items are more personal. "There's a great book that I read. 'Champion Minded' by Alistair McCaw – it's a sports psychology book that I read on the way to a ground and in between rounds." Something Leah never leaves at home is a necklace that was given to her by her late grandfather as a lucky charm.

Leah adds one last thing to her kitbag, "Though it's not exactly something that fits in my kitbag... my parents! They take me to all my competitions and it was my Dad who first got me into shooting – he also takes all the pictures for my social media pages, and often competes in the same competitions. Both my parents are amazing at supporting me, and probably the most important things from the whole list!"

Semi-automatics: up to £750

This month we look at the ever popular semi-autos, with a focus on the budget end of the market. So, what can £750 and under buy you for a brand new, off-the-shelf semi-auto?

HATSAN ESCORT V

RRP: £504

www.edgarbrothers.com

Turkish manufacturer Hatsan are very competitive in the market in terms of both price and product range.

The Escort V semi-auto is a very functional gun. It has a robust, rugged design and some interesting design features that demonstrate that this gun is a serious competitor.

The receiver of the gun is made from black anodized aircraft alloy and looks rather smart. The design is slightly squarer than the other guns on test, which is unusual but in no way detracts from the way that it handles or shoots. The test gun had 28in barrels and weighed in at 6lb 4oz. It had a very steady swing and recoil was negligible, even on heavier loads.

SMART VALVE PISTON

Automatically adjusts gas pressure for reliable cycling of varying loads...

The gas-powered system worked faultlessly, courtesy of the Smart Valve Piston system, which automatically adjusts the amount of gas needed to cycle. The gun coped well with all of the different loads put through it.

We liked the functional and practical feel of this gun, everything seemed to be in just the right place. However, the one feature that we weren't sure about was the Escort Fast Loading System – which means that the bolt release is found in the centre of the floor/feed plate. It gave us concerns about fingers getting caught. But perhaps it is a feature that becomes more comfortable the more you use it.

The gun is supplied with a complete set of five chokes, length of pull can be altered by varying the size of recoil pad and it also comes with a three-year warranty.

At this price you do get a lot of gun for your money, a gun that is enjoyable to shoot and certainly looks tough enough to last many years.

HUGLU G12

Huglu is another Turkish manufacturer which has been making firearms for more than 100 years, and the brand is now gaining recognition in the UK. The G12 semi-auto is a gas-operated model that offers fantastic value for money and is enjoyable to shoot.

The test gun came with 28in barrels, although there is a 30in option available too, which is probably worth looking at, as the G12 felt a little too short and light when shooting, making for a slightly unsteady swing. The gun weighed in at 7lb 3oz, so actually isn't any lighter than the other models on test which would explain why recoil was not noticeable. The longer barrels would probably make for a more comfortable feel.

The gun feels well-built, sturdy and loads very nicely. Cycling of rounds was no issue even down to 24g.

At this price you don't get the latest ergonomic design, but you do get a surprisingly well-built and functional gun, that keeps up with the more established names in the market.

The laser engraved action is pleasant to look at. We were surprised to see that the gun even comes in a branded ABS case with velvet sleeves for the barrel and action, a full set of five multi-chores and a one-year warranty. The wood is plain to look at, but again for the price it's perfectly functional and, as with others, a supplied shim kit does allow for some adjustments to the stock.

The G12 is a great entry level semi-auto, perfect for juniors or newcomers or even experienced shooters with a penchant for a semi-auto that doesn't break the bank.

FRANCHI AFFINITY SPORTING

RRP: From £750

www.gmk.co.uk

This model from Italian manufacturer Franchi delivers a gun that looks great and shoots well. The contrast of the pale anodized aluminium alloy receiver against the black polymer stock and fore-end is very stylish.

This is the only gun in our test to feature an inertia operated system, which should offer a more reliable cycling of cartridges over a longer period of time. It was impossible to feel the difference in mechanism when shooting the gun, and it worked flawlessly on test. The manufacturer claims that this system also offers better balance and less perceived recoil. Weighing in at just over 7lbs the test gun was very similar in weight to others on test, but did feel lighter to us. The 30in barrels offered a smooth and steady swing, and the gun had a high quality feel. Franchi has invested substantially in developing their range and looked at the habits of over 1,000 shooters to develop a gun to become a natural extension of the shooter. This research was also utilised when designing the checkering pattern too – all clever stuff.

The Affinity Sporting ships with three chokes as standard and utilises an interesting sounding technology – Twin Shock Absorber (TSA) – in the recoil pad. This contains polyurethane foam that expands when shooting, helping to absorb 50 percent of the recoil. Franchi offers a seven year warranty on all mechanical parts – substantial peace of mind to any prospective purchaser.

WINCHESTER SX4

RRP: £719

www.winchesterint.com

Winchester has been producing semi-autos for many years, and the SX4 is a continued evolution of its product. First impressions are good – it's solid and well-built, handles nicely and comes with three Invector-Plus multi-chokes and length of pull spacers. The test gun had 30in barrels, which on dry mounting did feel a little unwieldy, but any fears on that front were dismissed once shooting began. The SX4 is well-balanced and produces a slower, more steady swing, which was useful on long crossing targets.

It boasts some impressive features, new ergonomic design, self-adjusting active valve system, drop out trigger group and Inflex

INFLEX TECHNOLOGY RECOIL PAD

Directs recoil down and away from your cheek, helps to reduce flinch and fatigue...

Technology recoil pad. We found the trigger a little too ergonomically designed for our tastes – it felt almost flush with the trigger guard, which was not comfortable for us, but that design was common among three of the guns we tested this month, so perhaps the majority of shooters like this feel. The gun cycled a 27g clay load with ease and also coped with 24g loads too, but did have trouble with 21g loads which can be one of the few drawbacks with a semi-auto.

The SX4 is a well-designed and reliable gun that will deliver years of solid service. It allows a competitive buy in point to the Winchester brand, while also providing the safety of a good residual value for trade in or selling down the line – an important consideration for newcomers to the sport.

Breakfast of champions

Jasper Fellows chats with Tess Morris-Paterson, Head of Performance Support for Shooting at The English Institute of Sport, about what constitutes the best pre-competition breakfast.

CARBOHYDRATES

Tess says, "Carbohydrates are absolutely essential, especially as you wake up with low levels due to your body functioning and using them over night." However not all carbohydrates are ideal before a competition. Look for those with a low glycaemic index, or GI. The GI number represents the time it takes for our bodies break down the carbohydrates into energy. Foods with low GI numbers can be considered 'slow release energy' foods. Continually working without eating enough carbohydrate means you are losing 20 percent of your potential. Low carbohydrate stores in the blood, muscles and liver means that your skill, accuracy and concentration are reduced."

Medium portion of food	Carbohydrate (g)
Baked potato, pasta or rice	60
Bagel, flapjack or slice of fruit cake	40
1 large banana or 50g raisins	35
2 slices of bread, 2 crumpets, or 1 bread roll	30
Muesli, cornflakes, 2 Weetabix, or cereal bar	30
50g chocolate, 10 jelly beans or 3 Jaffa cakes	30
500ml sports drink or squash	30
135g baked beans or 100g sweet corn	20
200ml orange or apple juice	20
Apple, pear, orange or 2 kiwi fruit	15
2 tsp honey or jam or 150g low-fat yoghurt	15

TESS'S FAVOURITE LOW GI CARBOHYDRATE OPTIONS

Porridge This Scottish staple is a great source of low GI carbohydrate and a brilliant winter warmer.

Wholemeal toast With lots of supermarket and high street brands to choose from, you can't go wrong with a few slices of toast in the morning.

Muesli Porridge's more exciting Swiss cousin. Dried fruits not only add more vibrancy, but also boost the body's vitamin levels.

PROTEIN

"Protein, while important, should not be the primary consideration for a healthy and effective pre-competition breakfast." Tess explains, "Protein is needed for building new tissue and repairing the old, including muscle, which is essential for effective recovery. However the majority of the population consume too much protein. This could be replacing other essential foods like carbohydrate and fat."

There is no need to reach for protein powders or bars, there are plenty of natural and easy ways to give your breakfast a little protein boost. Bread and butter both contain decent levels of protein and come without the digestive discomfort that can come from heavy protein powder smoothies.

GREAT PROTEIN OPTIONS

Milk Either by the glass or added to your cereal, this staple not only contains protein but also electrolytes to help keep the body hydrated.

Eggs Never fried. Boiled or poached is best, perhaps with a couple of slices of wholemeal toast and some smashed avocado for the millennial of the family.

Bacon Unfortunately not, this breakfast favourite contains far too much fat and cholesterol to be considered a healthy performance boosting option.

HYDRATION

Water is the basic building block of life. In fact 60 percent of the adult male body is water.

Even a seemingly small dip of only two percent hydration can have a massive effect on physical and mental performance. However, it is not just water that the body needs to stay hydrated.

We also need electrolytes. These are the vital salts that are needed to generate electrical signals in brain, contract muscles and much more. When you are running low on electrolytes you may experience a range of unpleasant symptoms from headaches through to irregular heartbeats. Luckily electrolytes can be easily incorporated into a healthy breakfast. The simple addition of fruit or fruit juices will help keep these up.

HYDRATION MADE EASY

Citrus fruits These all contain good levels of electrolytes plus a sugar boost to wake you up without reaching for the caffeine.

Bananas Nature's energy bar, pumped full of potassium.

Coconut water Incredibly good for hydration. So good that special forces soldiers are still trained on how to use coconuts intravenously in emergency situations.

BEN'S BREAKFAST

Triple British champion and two-time World Cup silver medallist, Ben Llewellyn, explains how the right nutrition helps keep him at the top of the leader boards.

"Nutrition is a huge part of being a competitive shooter at all levels. Keeping those energy levels in the right place for a long period of time is important.

"I try to eat breakfast two hours before my first round of the day. I usually eat Weetabix to start then I have two eggs, maybe on a slice of toast, or some porridge and a banana.

...nutrition is a huge part of being a competitive shooter...

All of these are a great source of energy with a low GI level. This creates a slow release of energy which is essential for maintaining performance.

"I try and stay away from caffeine when I'm shooting.

It gives you a boost of energy, but with every boost of energy comes a drop and you don't want one of those drops happening half-way through a round.

"I keep a close check on my hydration, especially abroad as the warmer climates can dehydrate you fast. To keep hydrated I usually have a bottle of water with electrolytes, which I sip throughout the day just to keep my hydration levels in the right place as well as drinking normal water."

A word of advice

Laura Saunsbury shares the benefits of the CPSA members' free legal advice helpline.

Your annual subscription for membership of the CPSA represents excellent value for money and provides a wide range of member benefits. As the Association's honorary solicitor and shotgun licensing advisor, I have been asked to highlight one of those member benefits, namely the free legal advice helpline.

The majority of enquiries we receive are requests for advice in relation to revocation or non-renewal of certificates and the associated seizure by police of a member's guns. However, we can and do provide advice in relation to many other legal issues, including for example, the medical information which is now required from every certificate holder's GP on grant or renewal, visitors' shotgun permits, the extent to which non-certificate holders can participate in shooting activities, and when a member dies what steps the family should take to deal with their guns appropriately.

Members seeking to access the legal advice helpline should initially contact CPSA headquarters and speak to one of the staff there, even if you believe you need to speak directly to a solicitor. This enables the Association to build up a picture and monitor where there are recurring themes or problems, and whether it is on a national scale or confined to certain police force areas. If your enquiry is routine and straightforward, it may be that the CPSA staff will be able to assist you.

However, if they consider you need legal advice from a solicitor, they will send us a brief outline of the issue together with your contact details. You will then be contacted shortly afterwards by either me or my assistant Gary Smith to discuss your situation.

Members are asked to bear in mind that the legal advice helpline cannot provide you with unlimited or regular free advice and does not extend to us drafting documents for you.

My position as honorary solicitor and shotgun licensing advisor is, as the title suggests, an unpaid post. Consequently, my firm is not paid by the Association to provide legal advice to members and therefore we can generally only provide up to 20 minutes free advice by telephone or email.

On many occasions we can give practical advice within this timeframe which either answers member queries or enables you to go on and resolve issues yourself. However, inevitably some situations are more complex, and some require the ongoing help of a solicitor. If you wish us to continue advising or representing you after you have received your entitlement of free advice, in many instances we will be happy to take on your case, although we would then be obliged to discuss our fees for providing our services.

Where we consider the nature of your legal problem falls outside the areas of our expertise, we will endeavour to signpost you in the right direction to where you can obtain further specialist advice.

Laura Saunsbury is a consultant solicitor with a leading London law firm and has recently commenced her 10th year as the Association's Honorary Solicitor and shotgun licensing advisor.

If you wish to maximise the benefit you gain from your free advice entitlement, it always helps if you can provide the CPSA or us with a written summary by email or letter of the nature of the problem together with copies of any relevant documents, such as correspondence from your licensing department. It can save a lot of time if we already know the background before we telephone you.

CPSA LEGAL EXPENSES INSURANCE POLICY

For full members of the Association who have had their shotgun certificate revoked by the police or not renewed, you may be entitled to have your legal costs in connection with an appeal against that decision covered by the CPSA legal expenses insurance policy.

However, it should be noted that cover is not automatic. It depends on the particular circumstances and our assessment of how likely your appeal is to be successful. The CPSA insurers will not fund a member's legal costs where it is considered that your prospects of success are less than 50 percent. The insurance policy is designed to assist those members who already have a certificate and from whom the police then decide to remove it. Cover therefore does not extend to appeals against the refusal to grant a certificate, even if you have had one before at some time in the past.

North Region and all North Counties Skeet Doubles Championships

The first Skeet competition for 2018 kicked off with the Skeet doubles, at the North of England ground on Sunday 11 March. Turn out wasn't too bad and the weather, after the atrocious conditions of the previous week, was a balmy 8-10 degrees with little to no wind.

This may have contributed to 2 x excellent 100 straights being put in by Gary Cooke and Steve Leppington (well done), which led to a good natured shoot off resulting in Steve being declared the winner.

Results:

North Region Champions

Senior	Steve Leppington
Lady	Liz Shanks
Junior	Holly Pennington
Veteran	Steve Leppington

County Champions

Durham Champion and Veterans was James Tones. Lancashire Champion was J. Emmott with Holly Pennington taking Ladies and Juniors and Dave Hornby the Veterans. Northumberland Champion was Ed Common with Liz Shanks taking both Ladies and Veterans. Yorkshire Champion and Veterans was Steve Leppington. Along with the main competition, Phil also put on a registered ESK which was quite well attended and it was nice to see some of our shooting colleagues from Cheshire attend. Thanks to the ground and kitchen staff, well shot everybody.

18 Mar: Northumberland All Round Championships

The Mini Beast from the East wreaked havoc at the Northumberland All Round Championships at Bywell SG on Sunday 18 March, reducing the 'gate' to just 27 entries. The weather was bitterly cold, but the ground itself wasn't too severely snow affected – the damage being caused by the surrounding roads network coming to a standstill.

The Northumberland Champion was David Woolley, with 92. Dave is a popular winner, and a 'fresh face' for the title. There were no Lady, Junior or Colts entries but John Longstaff took Veteran's title with 81, just one clay above Mervyn Redpath.

Bywell is gearing up nicely for the English and British All Round events on 19-20 May.

2018: Malcolm Midgley Memorial shoot

A good turnout of shooters attended the 100 all round in the 2nd Malcolm Midgley memorial shoot at NOECC on 18 March. The weather was very cold and windy (luckily no snow) but an excellent score of 96 by Mark Webster won the shoot. It was good to see Mrs Midgley attending the event accompanied by her family and friends. Jean presented the Memorial Trophy to Mark along with cartridges and a specially designed leather wallet. A big thank-you to Phil and Sean and all the staff at the NOECC for a great shoot and a lot of hard work. Last but not least thanks go to Victory Cartridges Ltd and Rob Hall for donating cartridges for prizes and also to Andre Maughn for the beautiful leather wallets which were auctioned off, with the proceeds going to the Macmillan Cancer Research. Thank-you to all who attended despite the weather conditions, it was good to see how many people stayed to the presentation. Hope to see you all again next year.

DTL Selection Shoots

Sunday the 11 March was the 1st NOE DTL Selection Shoot at Spennymoor CPC. A superbly run shoot, as always, saw a good entry of shooters support the event. An early score of 295 was posted by Tom Robinson which set a high benchmark of things to come. Further high scores were posted by Junior shooter Richard Tinson on a 297, and not so Junior shooter Nigel Chapman on a 299. But it was Emma Holden who took the honours of the day, shooting the perfect score of 100/300. Excellent shooting Emma. Well done.

One week later (18 March) saw the second NOE DTL Selection, this time at Bywell Shooting Ground. However, the weather could not have been any more different from the previous week. Unfortunately, the 'Beast from the East' meant that many shooters (myself included) could not make it to the ground due to the snowy and artic conditions. This is a great shame as Bywell are known for hosting some excellent events. Of the brave shooters who attended, it was again Richard Tinson who topped the day with 100/294. Congratulations Richard.

Thank-you to everyone who attended the first two selections. We hope to see you all at the next shoot at Beverley on 29 April.

Charlotte Kitchen

TD Shooting held their final winter series Sportrap at Park Lodge Shooting School on Sunday 25 March. The weather on the day was sunny clear blue skies with only a slight wind. The 100 target course was again a tricky one with a mix of speeds and angles with the furthest target being a quick left to right looper on layout 3 at 45 yards, if you weren't paying full attention you could soon be dropping targets. High Gun on the day was Paul Foster enabling him to take the overall series high gun prize of a semi auto. The other series winners were AA Class 1st M Doughty 2nd A Calvert, A Class 1st J Hardy 2nd D Hughes, B class 1st P Dobson, 2nd = L Davison, N Smith, C class 1st S Meachen, 2nd D Pryse. It's been a fantastic series over the six shoots this winter and thank-you to everyone who supported the series. TD Shooting will be holding more shoots throughout the year including midweek summer FITASC, like us on Facebook for up-to-date fixtures.

CHESHIRE

MILES MACHIN

The season is underway and the Skeet and DTL have already had one selection shoot and very well attended they were, so look out for the next selection shoot on the Cheshire CPSA website and good luck.

Holmes Chapel Shooting Ground has finished its winter series and it was a very close fought battle to the very end, but the eventual victor was Mark Harris. Following hot on his heels was Peter Relph.

The first of eight events for the Ladies Clay Shooting League took place at Catton Hall Shooting Ground, and what a day we had. It was a particularly cold and frosty morning but after a good chat and hot drinks in the club house we braved the weather and with Becky McKenzie as our special guest what a fantastic day of shooting and coaching it was. There were some great targets set by Simon on the 75 bird shoot, with our eventual winner coming from the Juniors. Well shot to Eleanor Hardy who shot a very credible 60 and the team event went to Mickley Hall Shooting School. To find out more about our fantastic Ladies league please visit the website or go to the Cheshire page and follow the link.

On the 3-4 March at Orston Shooting Ground Cheshire shooters fared very well at the English Open Compak Sporting where Tony Dean took Senior Gold, but missed out after a very closely fought shoot off for High Gun to finish 3rd overall. Andy Jones also had a great day to finish with Silver in Vets after narrowly missing out in the shoot off. From here they moved onto Barbury Shooting School for the Compak Sporting UK Championship and England Team Selection Shoot, where Tony Dean went even better taking overall High Gun. Our very own Ian Cunliffe had a good day taking 3rd in his class, apparently Tony only took High Gun, so that Ian could take third, as they are both in the same class or Ian would have been fourth. Very gallant of Tony, but great for Cheshire shooters. Both Tony Dean and Andy Jones qualified to represent England at the European Championships in Cyprus in May, good luck and well done to both.

We hope you have all been practising at our great grounds and are ready for the season, good luck to all.

The first of the Derby v Notts Help 4 Heroes (friendly) shoots was held on 4 March at Nottingham & District Gun Club. The Down The Line leg shot in foggy and low visibility resulted in a win for Notts 2863/3000 to Derbys 2777/3000.

This was also the first Down The Line team selection. Top senior was Keith Ritchie on 288, followed by Andy Wragg and Ian Roper on 281, Will Gent on 280 and Simon Taylor on 279.

In the Veterans Dave Hinchliffe was the top scorer on 292, followed by Clive Weston on 281 and Vernon Lathwell on 258. Top of the Ladies was Chris Thacker on 245.

The regional representatives are Peter Harris, Gary Edwards and Mike Cashmore.

The Committee are all looking forward to meeting up with all the members and friends of the county around the shoots in all disciplines this season.

Shropshire clay smashers in action!

Shropshire has many very skilled shots across most disciplines and here we celebrate some notable performances, well done to you all and those that space prevents from mentioning this time.

Graham Evans is a highly-respected shot, his 50 straight in ABT at Ranton on 4 February bodes well for this year. In DTL Shaun Gardener has also started 2018 well, with scores of 291, 289, 295, 292 and 292 since January (time of writing mid-March). Alan Rowley shot 22 ex24 in the very difficult discipline of Helice at Rugby on the 25 February, good enough for 4th!

Junior Rebecca Fergusson has shot 83, 82, and 82 since January, once again showing both excellent scores and wonderful consistency. Two other Juniors have made a good start to the ESP year. Archie Hughes has already shot a 77 and 71 ex100. Arran Eccleston, in addition to his excellent OSK shooting has notched up an 81 ex100 in ESP too. Arran won five Junior disciplines last year and is pictured with his County medals and trophies.

Dave Harley has been busy and successful in ESP, scores all ex100 so far this year with 80, 98, 83, 80, 90, 78, 92, 90, 83 and 92. Gary Edwards has shown promise with 86, 83 and 76; we hope our Vice-Chair gets out on the range a lot more – he needs the practice!

Our former Vice-Chairman, Stu Aston has shot very respectably so far with 78, 83, 81, 83 and 74 in ESP. Stu has also shot in a GB selection shoot for CSP at Orston on the 4 March scoring an excellent 89. Incredibly there were five 99s at this selection shoot! Nick Williamson, our Super Veteran (SVT) in CSP, also shot an excellent 92 for 5th in his category. Last year Nick won team bronze at the European Team Championships, with Nick and his team mates John Bidwell and Andy Jones all in the top 6 SVT; and Gold at the World Team Championships in the SVT category. At the world's all three team mates were in the top 15 SVTs!

Julie Burton once again has been leading the way for ladies, shooting DT, ESP and Helice disciplines with some good results.

Team selection – transparent and inclusive

This year the Shropshire Committee are committed to making sure all team selections are transparent and fair. There is also a commitment to keeping members better informed on progress throughout the season and ensuring all disciplines are fairly represented too.

Your stories

Everyone, whatever your discipline, please send the Secretary your stories, so we can celebrate your successes or challenges and especially your more humorous moments.

Can you afford to pay for a damaged stock or barrel blowout?

It's a question we hope you never have to ask yourself but it is one that you should consider now, rather than after the event.

Many shooters rely on home insurance but the hard fact is that many home insurance products exclude guns from contents cover, whilst others may have restrictions in policy cover.

because, as I write, we are still six days away from the magic day, 1 April, that being the Cambridgeshire English Skeet being held at Eriswell Lodge this year. I am looking forward to it as I would think perhaps a good few of you are. This is the time of year when we will be trying our hardest, as I certainly will, to get into the county team to represent our County in the East Midland Inter-counties and National Inter-counties. Being one of the lucky ones, having made the team many times and also having been in the winning team, I can tell you that there is nothing better. In my view this is what it's all about.

A special message to all you Cambridgeshire ladies and young people. The county has very few Ladies, Juniors and Colts, and in most cases we enter incomplete teams with places not filled so please come and have a go you could be well surprised.

Some very good news for the county is that we have a member going to the Commonwealth Games shooting in the England Team for Olympic Skeet. He is the Cambs County Champion Freddie Killander and it could not have happened to a nicer person (and of course, a very good shot!). I would like to wish him the very best of luck on behalf of us all.

Some more news on the group of youngsters being trained at Cambridge GC. Since the last update a further course has taken place and all are getting on very well and I do know at least two of them are taking part in the County Skeet Championship in April.

For information on our county fixtures and other snippets of information, please visit Cambridgeshire CPSA website or county Facebook site. You can of course also contact us by email.

All the very best to you all look forward to seeing you on the grounds.

March 2018 is perhaps a month best forgotten as snow and icy roads spoiled many of the early scheduled events.

17/18 March Grimsthorpe Shooting Ground

One casualty of the weather was the Open Weekend at Grimsthorpe, an event which was to celebrate the opening of the new club house. Heavy snow the night before had made many roads difficult and made you consider carefully whether venturing out anywhere at all was a good idea but it takes a lot for our sporting shooters to pass up the opportunity to shoot at Grimsthorpe so in spite of the Siberian style weather a surprising number of people braved the elements and turned up anyway but it is fair to assume that with better weather there would have been a bigger presence. The wood afforded some shelter so whilst shooting conditions may not have been perfect the targets were still well presented and if you could keep your mind on the target instead of your cold fingers it was fine but the highlight of the day (at least for me) was returning to the warm and welcoming club house and sampling the very tempting hot baguettes being served by Elaine and the team in the kitchen. The new club house is magnificent and will undoubtedly enhance the experience of shooting at Grimsthorpe and we look forward to seeing you all at the county and regional events which are being held there throughout the summer.

11 March East Midlands ABT

Just one week earlier told a different story as ABT shooters turned up in near record numbers to shoot the East Midlands ABT championship. Conditions were still testing but there was no comparison to those of the following week. Lincolnshire shooters fared rather well, taking more than their share of the medals. Jack Wilkinson has spent the last year down under in Australia, but has certainly lost none of his abilities or desire to win, as he racked up a very solid 96/100, scoring 25 straight on his last round, to take the overall trophy. Jack's old sparring partner, John Winn, was not far behind on 94/100, a score which gave him the winning Veterans medal. This score also produced a tie for overall 2nd place so a shoot-off was required to settle the silver and bronze medal positions. John is no stranger to shoot offs and invariably runs out the winner but on this occasion one slipped away giving him the Bronze Medal. Jackie Houghton was just edged off the Gold Medal position by one clay, finishing on 76/100. Jan Stennett took Bronze on 74/100. It was a very nice way to kick off the 2018 championship season and we hope it is the start of a successful season for all.

While most shooters are waiting for the weather to get better winter seems to be firmly holding a tight grip on the country. However this has not stopped the determined Norfolk Junior shooters from persuading their parents or carers to brave the cold and, in some places, snow, them to continue to compete. February saw Elise Dixon travel to Beverley Clay Target Centre to compete in the Universal Trench Winter Series, it was a cold but bright day and there were plenty of shooters from all over competing.

Elise had a tricky start putting in a

Elise Dixon & William Gilbert.

Elise meets Olympic medallist Peter Wilson.

16 however by round 3 she was neck and neck with Ryan Askem and the 4th round would be the decider for top of D Class. Elise came through with a 19 finishing on 80/100 and taking the D class win, the first of many we are sure.

February didn't end there, Elise was back up to Beverley Clay Target Centre for another Olympic Trap competition, this was the start of the practice competitions in preparation for the Portugal Grand Prix in March and Elise put in her PB of 75, giving her 2nd in Ladies.

Following the success at Beverley, Elise Dixon and William Gilbert headed south to Nuthampstead for the grounds first Olympic Trap of the season. It was a busy shoot with 51 shooters taking part. It was an exciting competition with Elise squaddled with Peter Wilson competing, if that doesn't make her nervous, nothing will! William had a great start to the season putting in a respectable 74.

Next was the East Midlands ABT Championships at Nottingham Clay Target Centre with 67 shooters taking part this was set to be an exciting competition, weather was holding and Norfolk came away with some victories, Russell Houghton toughed it out in a shoot-off after tying with John Winn from Lincolnshire, but Russell emerged victorious with a straight 25 securing him the silver.

Laura Shinn battled hard, but unfortunately could not stay for the shoot-off meaning she forfeited her Bronze medal to Janet Stennett from Lincolnshire.

William Gilbert put in a gallant effort achieving a 93/100, that saw him win the Juniors, and placed 4th overall in the competition out of a total 67 shooters, and winning D Class. Well done William, high gun is within reach and congratulations to Andy bowers for winning his class.

the English Sporting at Orston, which took place on 25th March. The clocks had changed, the sun made a long-anticipated appearance and it actually felt like British Summer Time. The bright light made some targets challenging but that didn't deter Martin Doughty who took the County HG with 94, 3 points ahead of his nearest Notts rival Ricky Croshaw. Ricky's score of 91 secured him the A Class win and was just enough to edge ahead of Robert Lowe and Simon Davis who both finished on 90 and tying for the AA trophy. Pat Dickman collected the Veterans HG on 89, Paul Gibson took the B Class trophy with 86 and Jon Allan took C Class with 85. The ever-consistent Megan Gamble took the Ladies HG with 78. Matthew Armett is doing a great job representing Junior shooters for the county at the moment, and won the Colts class but with no other Juniors or colts competing it is a concerning time. Matthew needs some competition to beat and also to shoot with in the county teams. Well done to everyone that took part and thanks to Dan and Emily for a great championship.

Notts V Derbys

The DTL event on 4 March at Nottingham GC saw a good turnout from both counties. Notts won with 2863 to Derbyshire's 2777, Lee Clements leading the Nottinghamshire charge with 296, ably backed up by Lee Wilcoxson and Ken Rimington on 295 and Russ Hufton on 293. Thanks to everyone that came and supported the event. The Skeet match took place on 18 March also at Nottingham GC and unfortunately it was hampered by horrific snowy weather. Notts managed to field 10 shooters but Derbyshire suffered with the snow and only four managed to make the trip over the border. So we have decided to have both counties put on the shield this year to recognise the efforts of everyone that attended. Fund raising for Help for Heroes will continue at the ground over the next month. Thanks to Carl and the team at Nottingham for running the events.

Upcoming events

Just two County Championship this month, the All Round at Orston on Sunday 13 May which is also the team selection shoot and a supreme championship fixture, and the Handicap By Distance at Nottingham on Monday 28 May.

The following Avon county Championships will be held for 2018 are English Sporting, FITASC, Sportrap, DTL, Single Barrel, All Round and ABT. Due to the lack of support over the previous years all other disciplines have been discontinued. So watch the website and Pull! for developing details.

As we go to press the English Sporting Championship would have been held at Meadowcroft so a full report in the next issue of Pull!.

Sportrap is also at Meadowcroft (BA2 9HL) over the separate four custom built layouts that have been installed for the event. However the date has been changed since previously published by the ground and will now be held on Saturday 5 May. As some people are unable to shoot on Saturdays we apologise for this and can assure Avon shooters that this will not happen in future years.

The All Round, DTL, Single Barrel and ABT are to be held at South Wales 2000 SG (NP12 2BG). This was specifically recommended from the floor at the AGM and was agreed. This involves a short trip into Wales but is usually done from Bristol in 30 minutes and should develop into a longer partnership with the ground who are pleased to host Avon shooters for competition and practice. As we are travelling outside the SW Region for these championship these events have been designated as none levy paying events by the Avon Committee for shooters and ground owners.

CORNWALL

jodynich78@cloud.com sites.cpsa.co.uk/
cornwall

This year's selection shoots have started with a bang! I absolutely love when the new selection process starts in Cornwall each year, it means I have an excuse to shoot more clays!

The first English Sporting selection shoot in March catered for snow and sun lovers alike, we had two seasons in one day. The day started off with snow in the morning followed by glorious sunshine in the afternoon. There were some cracking scores put in by the usual suspects along with scores from some new faces, which is always lovely to see.

We had the first two Cornwall team English Skeet selection shoots. The first of which was hosted by Allet Shooting Ground. There was a particularly bitter wind and I half expected to be stood next to a brass monkey! That all being said John Dunne put in a fantastic score to start the Cornwall team English Skeet selection process off. Well done John Dunne.

The second selection shoot was at Lower Lake Gun Club with Kelvin Walsh putting in an awesome 100 straight, the first of many this year I'm sure. There were fantastic scores put in with Bill Moussalli looking cool, calm and collected on 99 and 5 other shooters all on 98, well done!

All in all, this year's Cornwall team English Skeet selection process is shaping up to be a tough competition. I'm looking forward to a cracking South West Inter-Counties Championship, I hope the other counties are practising!

April was an action-packed month with another English Skeet, the first All Round, the second English Sporting and the Sportrap Cornwall Team Selections shoots.

In case you missed it on The Cornwall CPSA Committee Facebook page, the Cornwall Team will be sporting new team shirts this year. There is nothing better to make you feel part of the team than when you all turn up to a team shooting event wearing your Cornwall shirt. We all wear them with immense Cornish pride. As you will see from the team selection shoot results they are well earned.

What fantastic news that our very own North Cornwall Shooting Ground will be hosting Down the Line, Universal Trench, Double Rise and Single Barrel South West Inter-Counties this year.

I would like to finish by saying what a huge loss we suffered in Cornwall with the passing of Nigel Bond of Tamar Shooting Ground. He was an incredibly welcoming host and always had an encouraging word for the inexperienced gun or a bit of banter for the guns he knew could take it. We will fondly remember you. The Cornwall CPSA Committee would like to send our sincere thoughts of comfort and condolences to his family.

Kelvin Walsh.

First of the Championships.

Fareham CTC played host to a very cold Hampshire DTL Championship event. Just when we thought the snow had gone back it came. Although very white the roads were wet and quite drivable at 7.30am that Sunday morning. The decision to go ahead with the shoot was based on how many turned up.

Nigel Reynolds who lives some 20 plus miles away made it so to did various members from all corners of Hampshire, so game on.

Although very cold on the layouts and the scores noticeably lower than on a summers day Roger Deacon and Steve Tarrent battled it out. At times it looked that none of the favorites to win would pick up the Hants title. All the high scorers were struggling to complete a straight 25, with the final 25 targets shot and back in the warmth of the clubhouse it was Steve Tarrent who racked up enough points and is this year's Hants Champ, Jane King the Ladies, Ron King the Vets and Stephen Ashford the Junior.

It's with much sadness that news came through that Dave Holmes has passed away. Dave represented Hampshire on so many occasions over the years on both Sporting and Skeet. One of Dave's favorite places to shoot was Roundwood shooting ground. So enthusiastic that others should enjoy the targets at this ground, Dave would phone around and organized many squads to shoot there. He will be sadly missed by many friends and fellow Hampshire team members.

As I write this the first of the County Championships is less than a week away, so I should have some results for the next Pull! report. Whilst I don't have a lot to report on from a county level, there is plenty going on at the National and Inter-National level.

Abbey and Ed Ling are heading out to Australia for the Commonwealth Games and we wish them the best of luck in the games. Hopefully we will get some good coverage on the TV, but it may mean some early mornings to watch it live.

In other news Emma Stacey shot the joint highest score in the Ladies at the UK Compak Championship at Barbury Shooting School and had to go to shoot off to decide the winner. Emma eventually came away with the Silver medal having had to go to a sudden death shoot off.

Keeping in the sporting world, congratulations must go to John Pool for winning the Veterans class at the Pan African FITASC Championships in South Africa. This is not the first time that John has won this competition and while he was out there he also picked up 3rd place in the Veterans in the Compak Sporting. Well shot JP!

Essex success at English Open Compak
Congratulations to Essex shot John Price who won the Veteran's title at the English Open BICTSF Compak Championship. The event was held at Orston SG on 4 March 2018.

Sporting Team Selection

The first of the Essex Team Selection shoots took place on 18 March at Barrow Heath. Over 40 hopefuls took part, but Adam Cocker leads the way with a round of 95, closely followed by Alex Higgs and Philip Hayden on 94. Nadine Gilder heads the Ladies' scores on 85, the same as the top Junior, Harrison Willis. Tim Butcher's 83 is the highest veteran's score. No colts have taken part so far.

There are two more selection shoots planned:

- 1 April at Badnock's Farm (note that plastic and fibre cartridges are now acceptable at this venue)
- 29 April at Highwayman's Shooting Ground

Two out of three returns to count.

Essex Junior First Straight

Congratulations to Essex Junior Katie Durrant on her first registered Skeet straight round as part of an All-Round competition. She then went on to shoot 21 at ABT in only her third ever attempt at this discipline.

As I write this report the weather thankfully has been kind to shooters for the last week. Recently the snow has caused a great deal of disruption and has seen many shoots and events cancelled. The biggest and most disappointing cancellation was the last clay shoot due to be held at Weston Wood. We all awoke in Oxfordshire on the Sunday morning to a few inches of snow. Steve Lovatt had no choice, he had to postpone the shoot. For many the new date that was issued clashed with other shooting events as unusually (thanks Spackers) it was scheduled for Saturday 24 March. I managed to catch the last half an hour of the shoot which saw over 140 entrants compete. Thankfully the weather was kind if not a touch grey. The targets were varied and well set. I joined Jane Robbins at the end of her shoot and thought it worthy of a picture seeing as she was the last of the lady Oxfordshire shooters to finish the round.

Well done to Rob Wise and Ben Husthwaite for taking joint High Gun with a brilliant score of 96ex100. I am sure many of the county's shooters will miss shooting Steve's challenging targets at Weston Wood and would join me in thanking both himself and Kim Abbott for allowing us to enjoy many enjoyable and challenging shoots. The use of the ground will be sadly missed by many, but hey, at least the villagers can no longer complain about the noise!

Matt Hance has sent me details of his successes in the last few weeks. His most recent being that he shot the first England FITASC selection shoot which was held at Kegworth Shooting Ground which he described as an interesting shoot to say the least! He shot an astonishingly well and finished with a perfect 100ex100. Congratulations Matt!

English Open Compak Championships

Orston Shooting Ground played host to the first real major of 2018. The English Open Compak Championships were held on Sunday 4 March. A full entry of 144 shooters turned up to compete which was so incredibly impressive given all the snow that had fallen prior to the shoot day. It was touch and go as to whether the event would go ahead. Thankfully the temperatures increased which saw the roads clear rapidly. The day was overcast, very cold but thankfully dry.

The scores coming in early were high, Chris Childerhouse posted 98ex100 which was then quickly superseded by an incredible 99ex100 by both Ben Husthwaite and Henry Arnold. As the day progressed the high scores kept rolling in, both Matt Bone and Anthony Dean shot 99ex100. Matt Hance went out with the last squad of the day but after missing a rabbit on his last layout he too finished with a 99 ex 100.

Thus sadly he had to settle for a five-way tie. As a shoot off went ahead the light was fading fast and it was quickly becoming a test of eyesight rather than a test of shooting ability! Ben and Henry posted a 24ex25, Sadly Matt missed a pair on his last Peg and settled for Bronze which left Ben and Henry in the running. Sudden-death ensued with Ben taking the overall title. Well done Matt Hance, great shooting and thank-you for your report on the events of the day.

Matt Hance.

Thank you to sponsors

Lastly, I would like to thank all the generous sponsors for this year's events, Robbins Nest Restaurant, Edgehill Shooting Ground, Banbury Butchers, Barwood Homes, Banbury Gunsmiths and the Oxford Gun Company. Without these people the years trophies would not exist.

Please send me your achievements and photos of the event and I will always try to get them published.

Happy, safe shooting!

Forthcoming dates

20 May	Helice ZZ, Rugby Trap Club
27 May	Skeet Doubles (Sponsored by Robbins Nest Restaurant), Northampton Shooting Ground
10 Jun	English Sporting (Round one of Champion of Champions), Westfield
17 Jun	Universal Trench, Rugby Trap Club

It is also a new European, British and Scottish record. Well done lads we are very proud of you all.

AG Adjustable Gun Stocks

If your scores are inconsistent it may be because your gun fit is incorrect, most factory stocks are made to standard measurements, you may not be 'standard'.

A fully adjustable comb which allows you to have consistent mounts may be what you need.

I also fit recoil reducers and adjustable butt plates. Prices start from £180. Cheaper than changing your gun. Fast turn around usually 4 to 5 days.

A NEW CLAY SEASON FOR ELEY HAWK

Charles Bull of Just Cartridges interviews David Thompson from Eley Hawk about the new clay season.

Q What is Eley's take on the upcoming clay season?

A: We are really excited about this season – it is looking good nationally and internationally. The Commonwealth Games and the ICTSF World DTL Championships in Australia saw a lot of Eley Hawk sponsored shooters. And, with so many of the CPSA shoots last season being fully-booked and so many early bookings on shoots this season, the sport is getting stronger.

Q What are you looking forward to?

A: Clay shooting is thriving and we are proud to support the sport wherever we can. This year we will be sponsoring a significant number of competitions with Eley cartridges up for grabs in a number of events. These include The CPSA English Open English Sporting at Atkin Grant and Lang, The GMK Benelli SP Auto Championship, The CPSA DTL weekend at Bywell Shooting Ground, The Beretta World Sporting Championship and The Northern Shooting Show Eley Hawk Clay Line Competition.

...with early bookings on many shoots this season, the sport is getting stronger...

Q Any new clay products in the pipeline?

A: 2017 was a great year for us and we made it as a finalist in the Shooting Industry Awards with the DTL Gold Clay cartridge. Superb in Fibre really took well, with plenty of positive comments on how smooth it is to shoot. We are anticipating a good 2018 with some exciting new products.

Q Do you have any plans for this clay season?

A: Eley Hawk are planning for a really strong season with all the foundations laid on the clay side, we have seen a positive response from shooters to our range.

Plans for us are to make sure we deliver great products, support the events really well so that as many shooters get an opportunity to try our products and listen to their feedback as nothing beats actually talking and listening to shooters.

Q Any new sponsored shooters?

A: We have recently signed Steve Clark who currently ranks 4th in English Sporting in the top 20. With the retirement of Joy Hiron from English Skeet we have also invested in the next generation of English skeet shooters and signed Emma Parkinson who really has stormed up the rankings. We are particularly pleased to welcome Ami Hedgecock to the team – she stunned everyone this year at the age of 13 by winning The Schools Challenge girls category and won a car using Eley Selects which was an amazing achievement! ☺
